Andy Tuck is a patent-barred commercial litigator focusing on international arbitration and federal antitrust litigation. His electrical engineering background allows him to represent clients entangled in litigation involving high technology, and he also has years of experience litigating appeals in state and federal courts.

He was named an “On the Rise” attorney by the Fulton County Daily Report in 2017, and has been named to the Georgia Super Lawyers “Rising Stars” list since 2014. Before working at Alston & Bird, Andy served as a law clerk for the Honorable B. Avant Edenfield of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Georgia and the Honorable Joel F. Dubina of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit.

Representative Experience

- Litigated international arbitrations with billions of dollars at stake, including intellectual property licensing and competition disputes, and complex construction matters.
- Litigated plaintiff- and defense-side antitrust and intellectual property disputes in federal courts across the country.
- Represented multiple clients in class action trial court proceedings and appeals of adverse class certification orders.
- Litigated appeals in state and federal courts, including Georgia’s appellate courts; the Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Eleventh, and Federal Circuits; and the U.S. Supreme Court.
